Dear Permit Applicant:

Your requested use of State Highway right-of-way may be subject to various environmental laws.

The issuance of an encroachment permit by UDOT does not represent that you have complied with these environmental laws. See UDOT Standard Specification for Road and Bridge Construction 01355, 1.3-1.9 and all of Section 00820.

Particular laws you must comply with include:

- * water quality regulations dealing with storm water discharge and wetland protection
- * wetland disturbances
- * water rights regulations
- * air quality, including fugitive dust emissions
- * encountered underground storage tanks or buried hazardous materials
- * protection of threatened and endangered species
- * historical, cultural and/or paleontological sites

This list is not all-inclusive. It is your obligation to see that those environmental laws are complied with just as you are to comply with all other laws and regulations related to your work. The fact that a UDOT inspector may review aspects of the work does not imply that you are in compliance with any other laws or regulations or absolve you from any duties related to the work or the permit.

If the location where the work is to be performed is situated within a highway easement through Federal Lands (BLM, Forest Service or other federal land ownership) or is owned by another state agency, you must also contact the appropriate agency to obtain clearances from them for the work you propose to perform.

Sincerely,
Carlos M. Braceras, P.E.
Executive Director
